IRISH TURNS AND TWISTS.

The Unconscious Humor That Crops Out in the Green Isle.

The author of "Irish Life and Character" says truly that one has only to mix with an Irish crowd to hear many a laughable expression, quite innocently uttered. As the Duke and Duchess of York were leaving Dublin in 1897, amid enthusiastic cheering, an old woman remarked:

"Ah! Isn't it the fine reception they're gettin, goin' away?"

In 1892 Dublin university celebrated its tercentenary, and crowds of visitors were attracted to the city. Two laborers, rejoiced at the general prosperity, expressed their feelings.

"Well, Tim," said one, "thim tarntinaries does a dale for the thrade of Dublin, and no mistake."

"Oh, fahk they do!" said the other.

"And whin, with the blessin of God, we get home rule, sure we can have as many of thim as we please."

An old woman, seeing a man pulling a young calf roughly along the road, exclaimed:

"Ch, you bla'guard! That's no way to thrate a fellow crather."

"Sure," said a laborer to a young lady who was urging him to send his children to school, "I'd do anything for such a sweet, gentlemanly lady as yourself."

Again, the laborers on a large estate decided that it would be more convenient for them if they could be paid every week instead of every fortnight.

One of their number was sent to place their proposition before the land agent, and this was his statement:

"If you please, sir, it's me desire, and it is also ivery other man's desire, that we resave out fortnights pay ivery week."

An exasperated sergeant, drilling a squad of recruits, called to them at last:

"Halt! Just come over here, all of ye, and look at yourselves. It's a fine line ye're keepin, isn't it?"

Oriental Punishments.

The heathen Chinese deems the desecration of graves one of the most unpardonable of crimes, and, according to law, any man finding another in the act of robbing a graveyard may legally kill the villain on the spot without fear of consequences.

If a Turkish baker palms off a loaf of bread on you that is proved to be of less weight than it is represented, you can instruct a policeman to nail the defaulter by one of his ears to the door of his shop so as to be in full view of the passersby. The poor wretch will then be provided with a sharp dagger or knife, with which he can cut himself free so soon as he can summon up the necessary courage required for the operation of self maiming.

In many of the oriental countries, where precious stones are looked upon as well nigh sacred objects, it is no uncommon thing for a jewel robber to be punished with death. In Tibet the penalty for falling from your horse when taking part in any military operations or public athletics is death.

One writer recalls how he saw a man shot in Montenegro for appearing at a review wearing a stained uniform.

Golf.

The game of golf was put down by an act of parliament in Scotland in 1341 as a nuisance. Then fines were inflicted on people who were found guilty of playing the game, for it interfered with the practice of archery, as men preferred wielding the club to pulling the bow.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1900.

HE "GAZETTE" IS AFTER THE "JOURNAL."

In an article published in the JOURNAL a few days ago it was stated that less than $250 per annum was received as wages by miners in the anthracite coal fields. The Gazette in its next issue published the following:

"The JOURNAL has an editorial this morning denying that the Democratic party is responsible for the coal miners' strike in the anthracite region. Among the inaccuracies of the article is the statement that wages of miners is less than $250 per year. The dispatches say that the average wages of coal miners in Pennsylvania and adjoining States is $1.75 per day."

The statement published in the JOURNAL came from a reliable source. The exact language used in the report is the following:

"What are the causes of this great strike? One cause is the continual reduction in wages. The average remuneration of the Pennsylvania anthracite miner to-day is less than $250 annually. How long can a human being support a family on this pittance amount for twelve long months, with the monster, Republican trust, steadily increasing the cost of life's necessities?"

The matter in the dispatches referred to by the Gazette was received from the coal trusts by the Associated Press and sent abroad to deceive the people. The Associated Press is a trust which is engaged in a like business as the coal and other trusts in the country are engaged in. A fellow feeling among the trusts makes them wondrous kind to each other, and the Gazette, like other Republican newspapers in the country, is engaged in helping to protect them in their villainous practices upon the people.

Will the Gazette oblige us by mentioning the other inaccuracies in the article published by the JOURNAL?

A PROPHET AMONG US.

"A prophet is not without honor save in his own country and among his own kin." The following is from the Gazette.

"We sometimes can't help but admire a demagogue but the Democrats and Silver parties of Nevada are playing the card too strong. They have taken their last political trick."

Who would have thought a week ago or at any time before the late Republican county convention that the people of Reno had a prophet among them, who has, within his knowledge, the future of the Democratic and Silver parties? It may be there is a wiseacre among us who is able to inform the people about the process used to develop prophets.

The more astonishing part of the late visions made public through the Gazette is that its editor should be entrusted with a knowledge respecting the future of these political parties, whose conventions are manipulated by old heads and old hands at the business. The self sufficiency of the Gazette editor is wonderful when engaged in prophesying. There is another wonderful thing connected with the late prophecy made by the editor that needs explanation which is the process used by Old Nick when engaged in putting a prophecy into the editor's head.

There is yet another wonderful thing connected with the prophecies which is the felicity of the editor when he is engaged in giving them to the public against his political opponents. Old Nick has been known from the beginning to be a lying fellow, and we are inclined to believe he is fooling the editor by telling him falsehoods but it appears from the manner and style of Mr. Bragg when giving to the public these lies, that he believes in the power from which he receives them, but that is not surprising as trusts and those who defend them believe in their father, who is the father of lies.

HANNA PLEADING FOR THE MINERS.

Mr. Hanna is in trouble over the coal miners' strike. It is reported by those who know that the boss and other leaders and managers of the party called upon Mr. Morgan in New York and represented to him that it was imperative upon those who control the mines that the miners be cared for in some way until after the first week in November, which means until after the election.

It was represented that the strike would be a means of defeat to the Republican party that could not be controlled by those who were engaged in directing the campaign. That otherwise the canvass was favorable to success by the party, as it had plenty of money for its purposes in the future, but should the strike continue the means in hand to secure success would not be sufficient to defeat the Democrats, who had become very aggressive. The naughty Democrats are making the boss more trouble by their aggressiveness than the striking miners, who—poor fellows—are in more trouble over Boss Hanna's full dinner pail, with very little in them, than they are in over politics.

The real cause of boss Hanna's trouble is the people in all this broad land who have hearts in their bosoms and souls in their bodies who will make trouble with the Republican party upon election day. They are the means that Mr. Hanna and others of the bosses and leaders fear will not be controlled, should the miners continue agitated for till after the election. Boss Hanna cares no more for the poor miner or his dinner pail than he cares for a starving cur with a naked bone on the highway. Could the imagination be made large enough to comprehend the meaning of Mr. Hanna's presence before Mr. Morgan pleading the cause of the miner at any other time or under any other circumstances than those present it would be a proof that mankind had received some unexpected revolution which had been the means of placing the boss and those who were with him within the line of human rights.

Don't Give Reno a Fair Deal.

The San Francisco papers are again prophesying that the relay championship of the coast will soon leave its permanent residence on the banks of the Truckee and dwell once more and forever in the Golden State.

The truth of the matter is that the papers are getting sore because athletic honors are coming Nevadawards with monotonous regularity. This injures the sale of extra copies over the mountains.

All the Frisco dailies observe a discreet silence when we win, and if the fact is mentioned, some saving clause is inserted to detract from the athletic honors won.

A Long, Stern Chase.

F. M. Lee received word yesterday to the effect that the Winnemucca bank robbers are distancing their pursuers. The bandits leave trails leading in different directions from their course when crossing soft ground. At one place this trick was played so deftly that the posse's Indian trailer lost a day in picking up the scent. The chances for capture are growing less.

News of All the Counties in the State Clipped From Exchanges.

The Horseshoe Gold Mining Co.'s mill is making steady progress with plenty of ore ahead for a large and successful run.

The Postmaster General has established a postoffice at Fay and has appointed Wm. DeFriez postmaster. This fills a long needed want in that camp.

A six-foot vein of anthracite coal is alleged to have been developed 35 miles northwest of Pioche at a depth of 25 feet below the surface. If the discovery is verified it will prove of more importance to the Lincoln county mining industry than a gold mine.

Notice.

All the residents and places of business in the city of Reno have been called on to get the names for the new directory about to be published, if by overnight any place has been missed, you will please send your name, house number and occupation to the JOURNAL it will be conferring a big favor on the publishers as they wish to make the directory as complete as possible. He Lifted the Ticker.

A London detective visiting Glasgow met a Scotch police official on the street and in the talk that followed spoke contemptuously of the ability of Scotch thieves as compared with the English experts.

Taking this as an aspersion cast on the astuteness of the Scottish police as well, the Glasgow detective was nettled and thirsted for revenge. Looking around, he espied a little fellow who had been dogging them and who was known as an expert pickpocket. Crossing the street he addressed the boy, and, pointing to the retreating figure of the English detective, he asked if he would know him again.

"Aye," replied the boy. "What about it?"

"I want you to lift his ticker. He says no one in Glasgow can relieve him of it."

"Ah, it's a' right. See o'ny green?" "Honor bright, Tommy! I'll give you half a crown when you deliver up the wateb to me."

"Ye will? An what else?"

"Nothing else."

"Let's see, then. I'm to lift the ticker, an you're to pay half a crown for't on the spot?"

"Yes, that's it."

"An wad ye ken it if ye seen it?"

"I would among a thousand."

"Is that it, then?" And the boy, diving into his trousers pocket, displayed the identical watch and explained that he had secured it "while the gent was chaffin about the prigs."

The Word "Salary."

The way languages are built up is very interesting, and the derivation of the word "salary" is curious as well. In ancient times Roman soldiers received a daily portion of salt as part of their pay. "Sal" is the Latin for salt, and when the salt was in course of time commuted for money the amount was called salarium, or salt money; hence our word "salary" and hence, doubtless, the expression "not worth his salt"—that is, not worth his "salt money," or salary.

THE FISH QUESTION

Nevada Can no Longer Expect Aid in Stocking the Truckee.

The Truckee river is by far one of the grandest streams in our State, while it is regarded by California as their best stream for sporting. It is not to be gainsaid that there are many brooks and streams throughout the eastern portion of this State where trout live and thrive, but they are becoming devastated because of neglect in planting fry. This is becoming necessary, as the food supply in a small stream as a general rule is insufficient to produce an ample amount of parent fish so that the stream may be replenished by the natural method of spawning.

Practically from now on the Truckee
river will be divided into two streams,
and the great benefit we have in the past derived from California stocking
the headwaters of the Truckee and its tributaries, will be out off, as for ten months in the year all the water in the stream from the paper mill to the power plant will be diverted from its natural channel, and conveyed by pipe and flume to the turbines. No water will flow over the dam, and the result will be that all young fish moving down stream will be destroyed by passing through the wheels. The larger ones cannot enter the pipe because of the rack used for holding back the drift wood.

During the high water of spring
when fish can pass over these dams
they are migrating up stream, thereby greatly reducing the supply of parent fish that we now have, for they cannot drop down stream during the low stage
of water, as is their nature.

The Truckee river has in it a fair supply of Rainbow trout, and its waters afford the most favorable conditions for their growth and reproduction. Success in the culture of this species of trout under favorable conditions is wonderful.

To repair the effects of past and present improvidences and increase our supply of food fishes, a fish commission must be provided. Good results cannot be expected from plantings of trout in public waters unless they are carefully protected by law,
and great precaution should be taken in the propagation of fish best adapted to our waters.

The Rainbow trout is absolutely a stream fish, therefore as a food supply
for the people no better variety of trout could be introduced for they grow rapidly, live well in confinement, and angling for them affords the greatest of sport.

Had the money that has been expended on Eastern Brook trout been used for propagating our native and Rainbow trout, we would have to-day well stocked streams throughout our State, whereas we venture the statement that streams other than the Truckee have become almost depleted.

Plantings of trout for these streams
must now come from the Truckee river alone, and the greatest precaution must be used in guarding against this stream becoming impoverished by replenishing others there from. This end can only be accomplished through favorable local sentiment and action
to be supplemented by proper legislation.

Exhibition of
Our Minerals.

No awards nor special mention were made of mining and ore reduction exhibits at the pavilion. This does not mean that there was not a fine display.
That made by the Electric Mining and Reduction Company was especially fine.

A perpetual mineral exhibit, containing all the varieties of ores in the county, would greatly benefit this industry. We suggest that some enterprising fellows take hold of this proposition and see what they can make out of it. A building or room on one of our principal streets should be devoted to this purpose.

A Strong Eleven.

Some fears were entertained when the fall semester opened that the varsity eleven this year would not come up to the standard of last fall's team, but conditions are improving. Some excellent material is coming in. Keddie will be in the lineup. Hewlett has concluded to let his hair grow. Cassius
Smith will be here, sure.

There are a dozen other good men who are now in training. Coach Hopper has 35 fellows practicing and is teaching them tricks new to the trade.

A Fifty Dollar
Fire Last Night.

Last evening about 8:30 one of the old fashioned hand-made alarms were given, no Gamewell box being in the vicinity of the fire.

The blaze was in the residence of A.
J. Christie, at the corner of Second and West streets. The services of the department were not needed, as the fire was extinguished by members of family.

Mr. Christie discovered the fire in the nick of time. Already the fire had fastened to the side of the room and ceiling. Bedding and clothing were afire, making a dense smoke. The loss will probably not exceed $50.

IT IS NEEDLESS TO SAY,
That everybody uses groceries. However, many of them do not know that most of their food is adulterated by scheming manufacturers. Such concern do not get our trade. Our prices are as low as GOOD GROCERIES are sold for

Many Things Are Meant
By many dealers who claim to handle groceries. When they advertise GOOD GROCERIES no mention is made of PRICE. When prices are mentioned QUALITY IS OVERLOOKED. Again, sometimes they dwell on the virtues of a LARGE STOCK. In this case no claim is made to carrying FRESH GOODS.

We Preach the Three Main Virtues of Groceries—
Quality Quantity Price
They are mentioned in their regular order and the happy combination is causing hosts of pleased patrons at our store.
